

IEEE Award for Technical Innovation and Engineering Achievement

About the award:

The IEEE is the world's largest professional organisation and is dedicated to the advancement of technology for humanity. The IEEE Victorian Section annually awards this prize to a final year project team exhibiting at the Melbourne School of Engineering's Endeavour Engineering & IT Exhibition. The IEEE Award for Technical Innovation and Engineering Achievement, will consist of one first prize of $500. This award is open to final-year student project teams from electronic, electrical, computer software or relevant engineering discipline. The project should demonstrate the most innovative technical project outcome. Every project that belong to these disciplines are automatically eligible for this award. The award winners will be directly selected on the day of the exhibition and the winners will be announced at the Endeavour Industry & Awards Night.

To apply, submit the completed application form in PDF format via email to endeavour-mse@unimelb.edu.au by no later than 5pm, Monday 2 October 2017.

Judging Criteria:

1. How the project team demonstrates the most innovative technical project outcome.
2. The Endeavour Exhibition display presentation quality.

All questions can be directed to the Endeavour team at endeavour-mse@unimelb.edu.au

Application and Judging Procedure	Date
1. Project teams submit application <ul style="list-style-type: none">A maximum two-page response (plus relevant appendices) to the prize judging criteria, using the 2017 Endeavour Wade Institute Entrepreneurship Award Application Form.Application submitted in PDF format Team via email to endeavour-mse@unimelb.edu.au	5pm, Monday 2 October
2. Judging panel to short-list projects <ul style="list-style-type: none">Short-listed projects notified to assist with preparation for the exhibition.	Wednesday 11 October
3. Short-listed teams present their project to the judging panel at their Endeavour Project Display.	Thursday, 19 October
4. Winners Announced at the Endeavour Industry & Awards Night	Thursday, 19 October